Position: Head Miller

Location: Heatherslaw Corn Mill

Company: Heatherslaw Mill Trust

Salary: £26,228 – £34,000 DOE

Type: Full-Time

Do you have passion and enthusiasm? Do you have an interest in traditional milling methods and looking after a working heritage museum and machinery? Can you balance a working production environment with creating memorable experiences for visitors? If so, we would like to hear from you.

About Us:

Heatherslaw Corn Mill is a working heritage museum located on Ford & Etal Estates in North Northumberland. The Mill was restored in the 1970's and operates as a productive flour mill and seasonal visitor attraction. The Mill is relatively unchanged since Victorian times, but milling has taken place on this site since mediaeval the period. We are currently looking for a Head Miller to join our team to bring energy and purpose to an unusual and interesting role.

Qualifications:

- Experience as a miller is desirable but not required. Training can be provided.
- Previous supervisory experience is preferred.
- An understanding of machinery and production processes is highly advantageous.
- Comfortable dealing with the public of all ages.
- Excellent problem-solving and troubleshooting abilities.
- Customer service experience.
- Sales experience would be beneficial.
- Ability to work efficiently under pressure and handle multiple tasks.
- Strong communication and organisational skills.
- A collaborative approach to work.

Why Join Us?

- Work in a unique heritage environment in a beautiful setting.
- Be an active part of promoting the preservation of traditional milling methods.
- Enjoy a dynamic and interesting work environment.

How to Apply:

Please see the Job Description for further information and key responsibilities. If you wish to apply, please submit a CV and cover letter to: Shannon Denson, Visitor Services Manager, Ford & Etal Estates, sdenson@ford-and-etal.co.uk.
